

SECURING THE FUTURE OF OPEN-ACCESS POLICIES

Rob Johnson
Director, Research Consulting

STARTING ASSUMPTION....

+

Open access services

=

Cultural/behavioural change

KNOWLEDGE EXCHANGE

Knowledge Exchange are:

German Research Foundation

Jisc (United Kingdom)

Denmark's Electronic Research Library

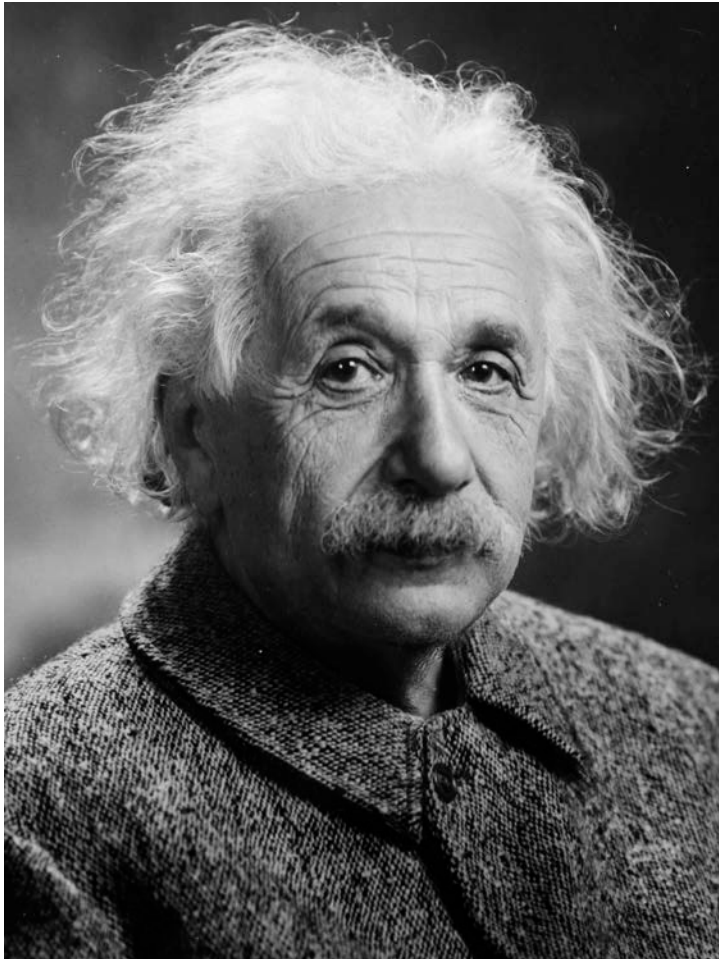

SURF (Netherlands)

CSC – IT Centre for Science (Finland)

Five key national agencies and bodies within Europe responsible for the development of infrastructure and services to support the use ICT within education and research.

DEFINING THE PROBLEM

“If I had 55 minutes to save the world, I would spend 55 minutes defining the problem, and only five minutes finding the solution”

Albert Einstein

DEFINING THE PROBLEM

1. On what services do OA policies depend?
2. What are the risks to policy implementation?

PUTTING DOWN ROOTS
SECURING THE FUTURE OF OPEN-ACCESS POLICIES

STARTING ASSUMPTION....

3 Policy components

12 Policy elements

18 Service subcategories

STARTING ASSUMPTION....

+

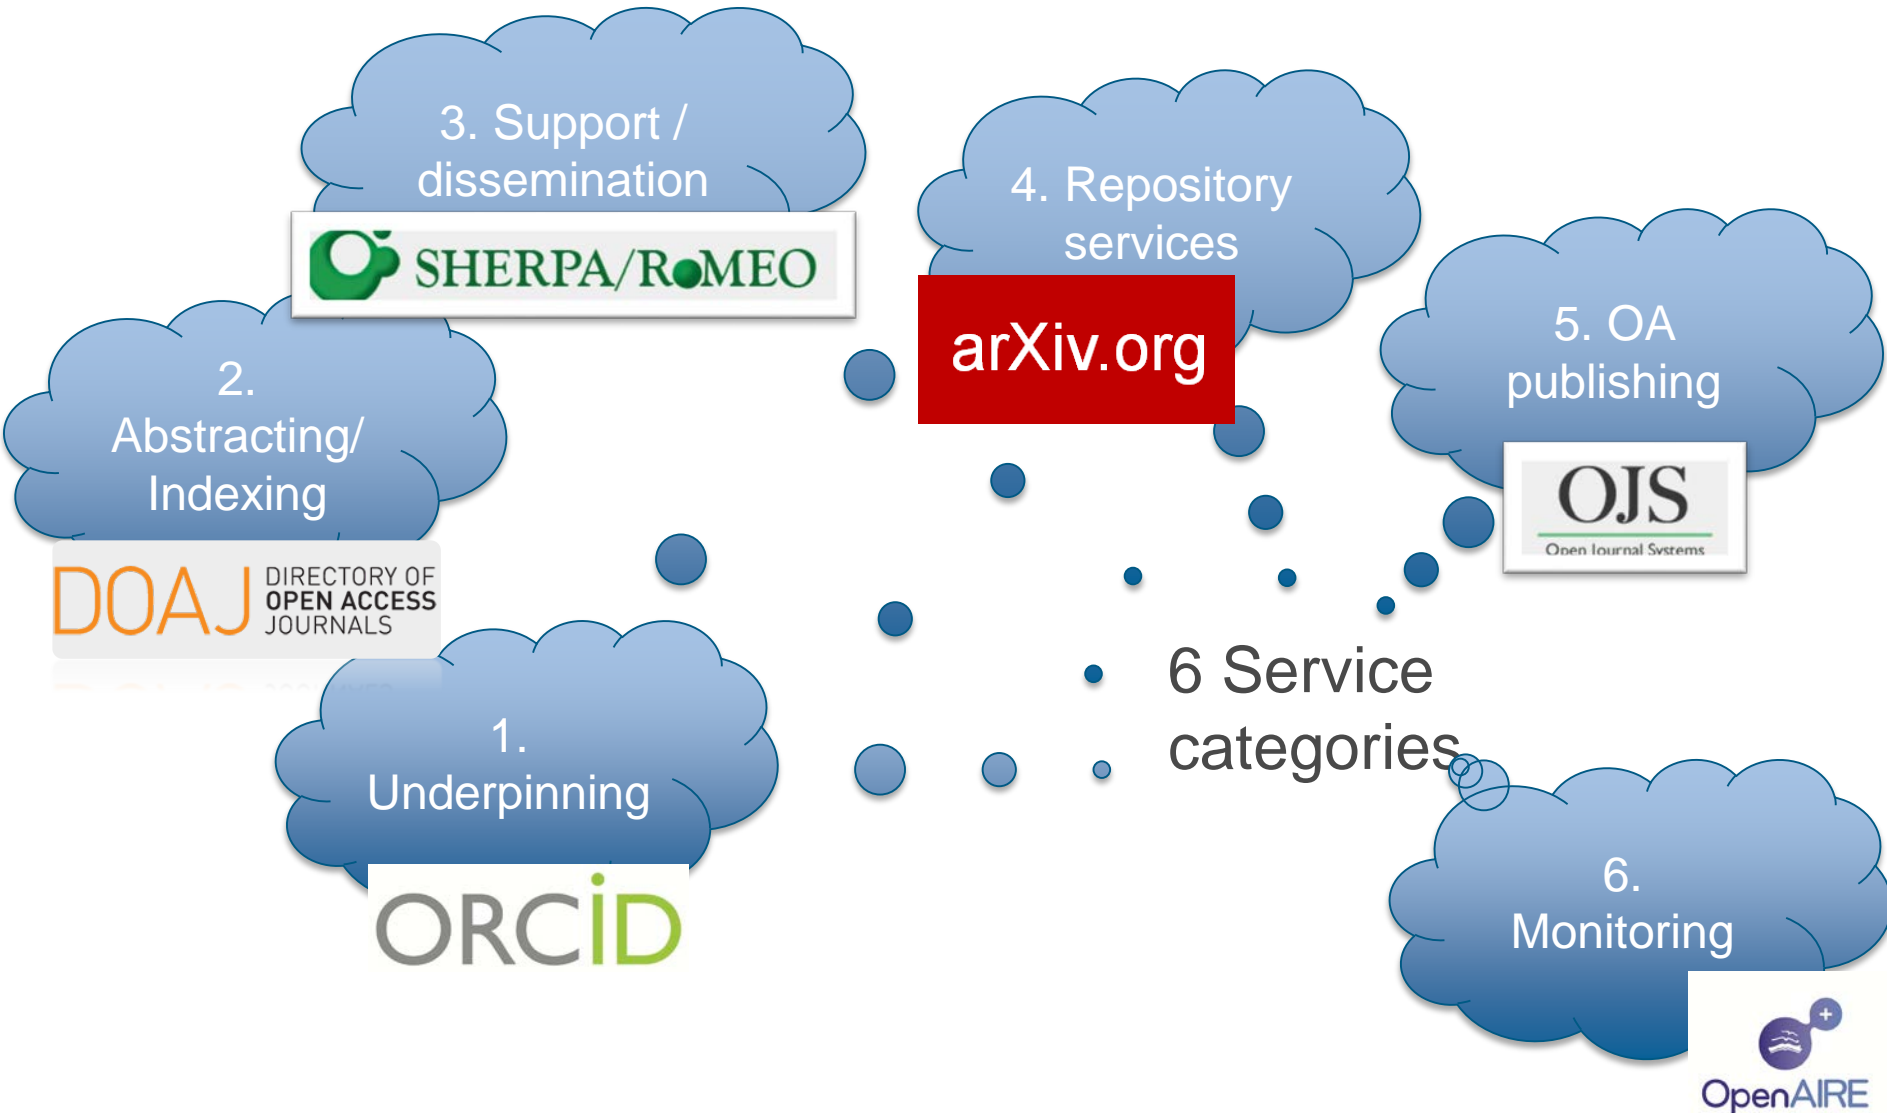

3 Policy
components

6 Service
categories

12 Policy
elements

18 Service
subcategories

STARTING ASSUMPTION....

HOW DO POLICIES RELATE TO SERVICES? (1)

3 Policy components

6 Service categories

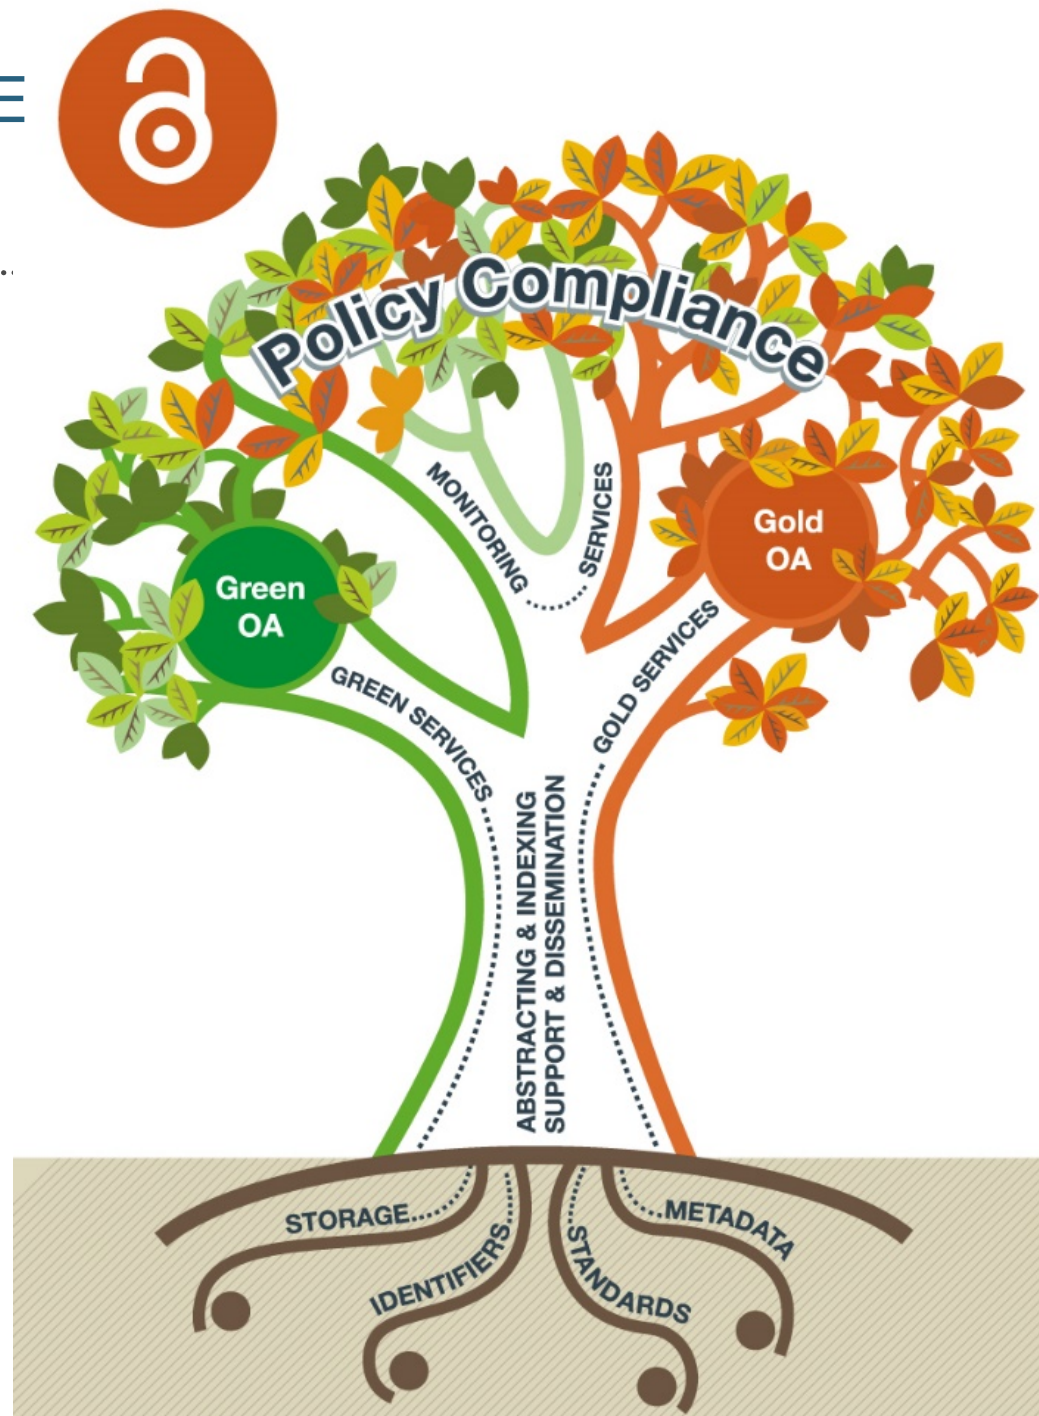

12 Policy elements

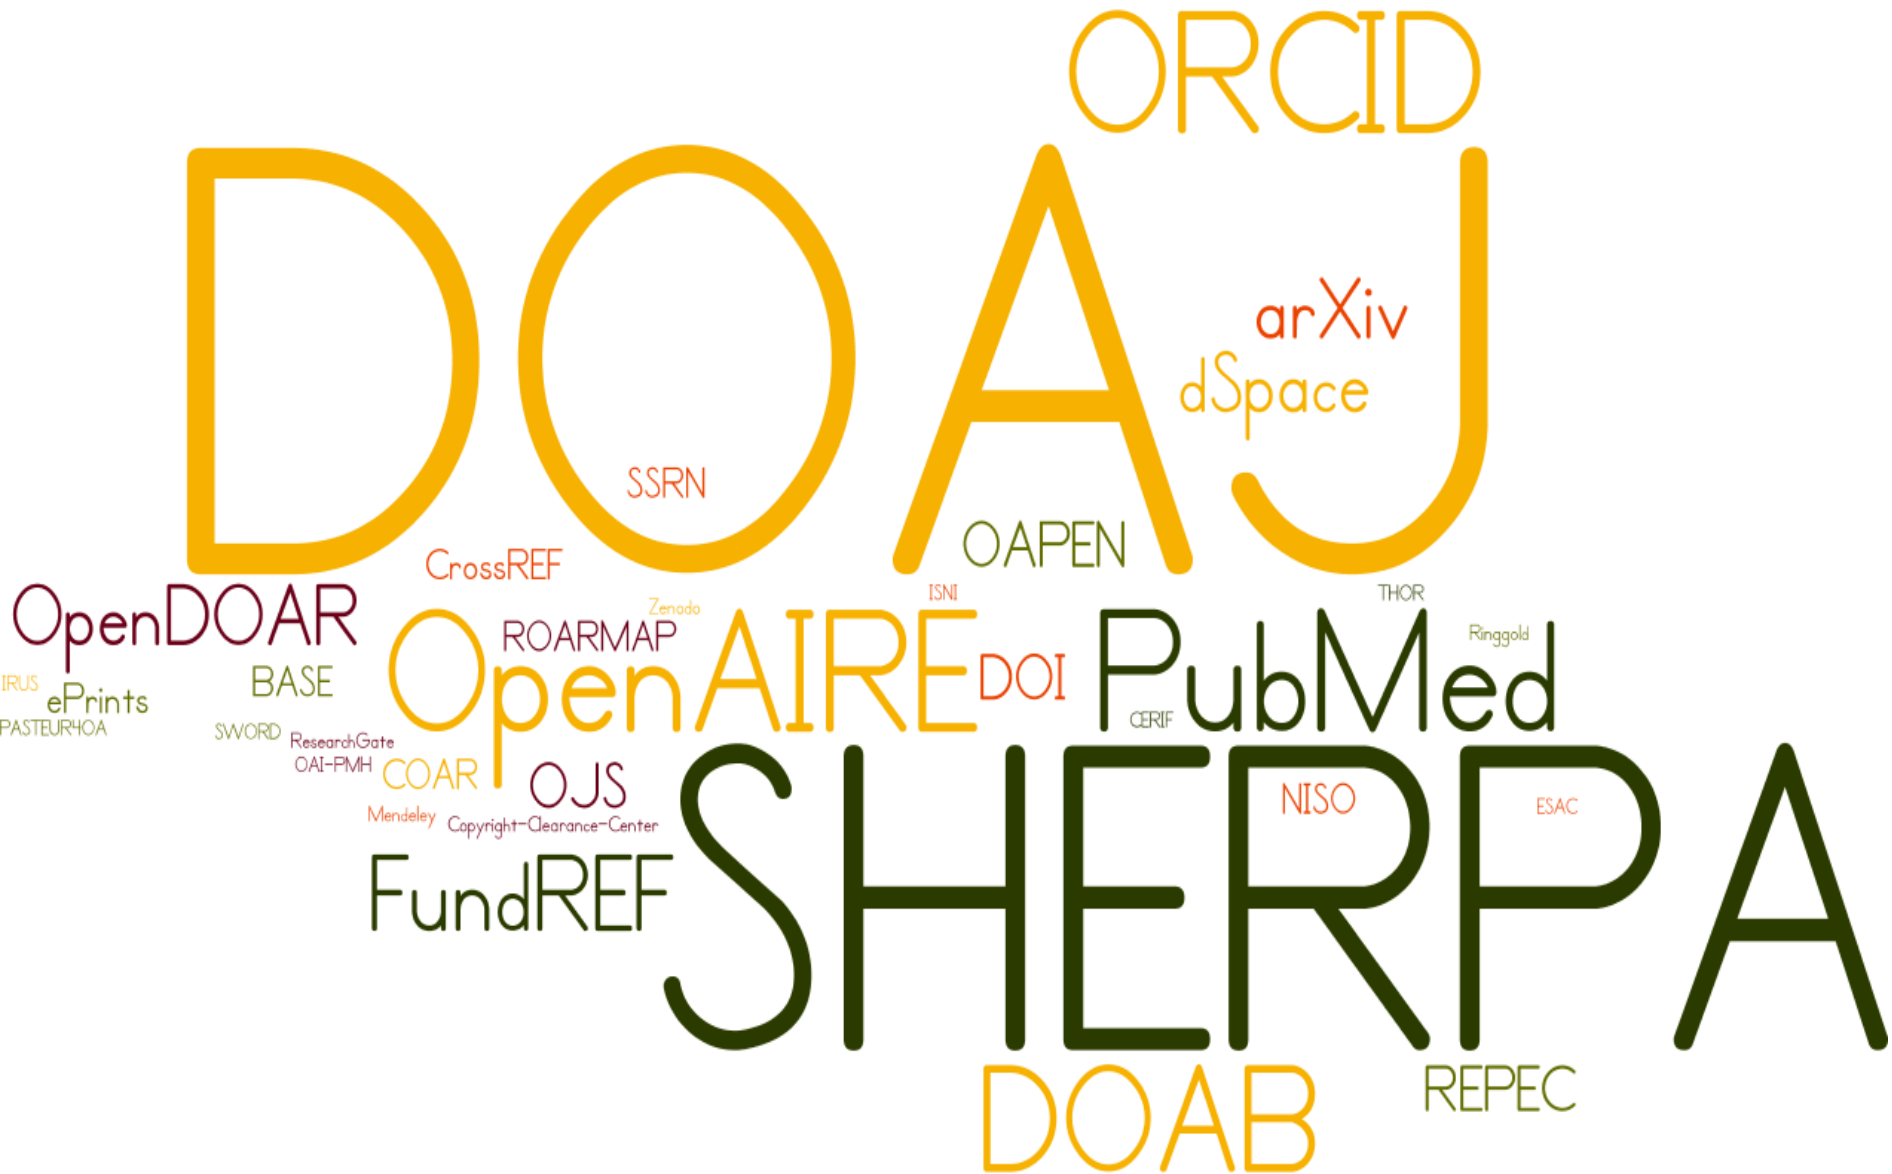

18 Service subcategories

HOW DO POLICIES RELATE TO SERVICES? (2)

- Interdependent
- Organic
- Transnational

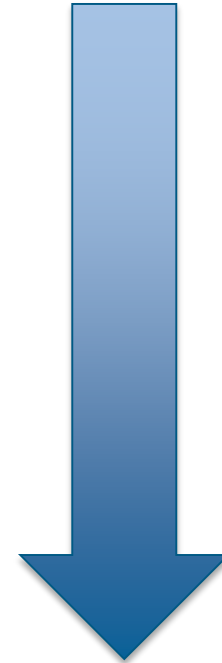

WHICH SERVICES MATTER MOST?

SO WHAT IS THE PROBLEM?

1. Governance
2. Sustainability
3. Fragmentation
4. Incoherence

Services

Infrastructure

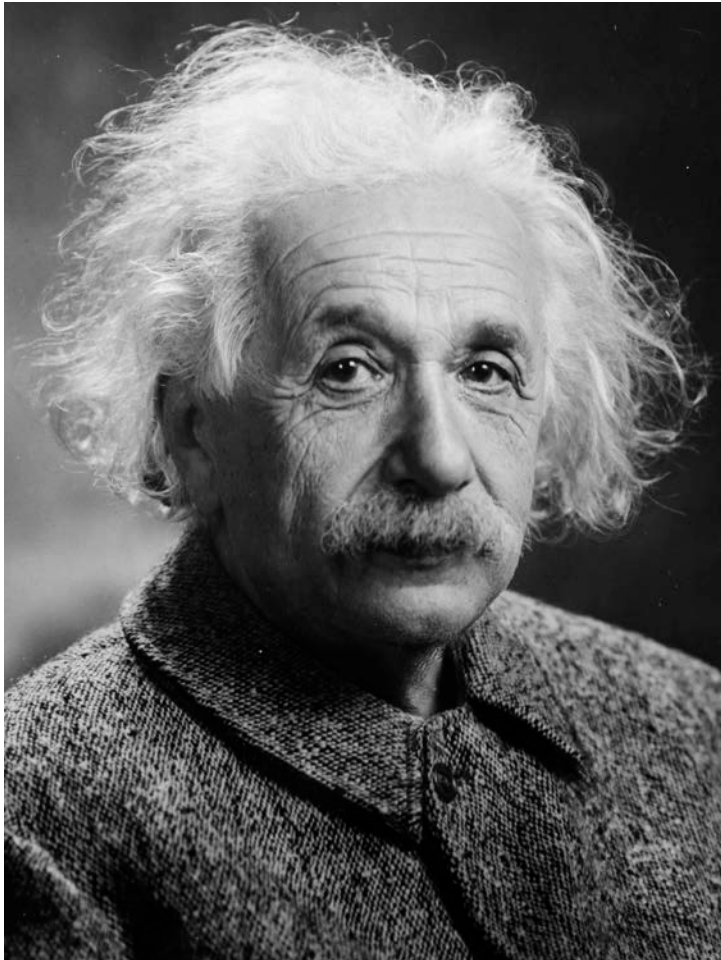

A 5-MINUTE SOLUTION

1. Do nothing?

2. Support only the most important services?

3. Body or architecture to oversee OA services?

“If at first the idea is not absurd, then
there is no hope
for it.”

Albert Einstein

MORE INFORMATION...

www.knowledge-exchange.info

Contact:

Email: rob.johnson@researchconsulting.co.uk

Twitter: @rschconsulting

Website: www.researchconsulting.co.uk